Welcome to Scouting's future!

Thank you for the time you put into making Scouting happen. Because of you, more young people will shape their Scouting experience, get involved in decision making and progress to take on leadership roles in the future.

Our new strategy lays out a plan for the next five years so that we can support even more adults and young people as we develop Scouting's future together. With this plan we're building on the successes of our last plan, by continuing to focus on Growth, Inclusion, Youth Shaped and Community Impact.

We have worked closely with UK headquarters on a joined-up approach to the development and consultation of our new strategy, which has helped us to make sure it is aligned with the UK strategy, and relevant and achievable in Scotland. We have also worked with UK headquarters to adapt this guide for use in Scotland, to ensure that it reflects our structures and the support available to Scottish members.

During the development of this plan, members told us that they needed more support to deliver an inspiring programme and more support recruiting, retaining and training volunteers. We believe that the initiatives planned under the strategy's pillars of Programme, People and Perception will help deliver this support.

This guide gives you an overview of the Skills for Life plan, our goals for the next five years, your role in supporting the movement to reach those goals, and how we're going to support you in your role, so we can continue to deliver fantastic Scouting together. We hope this helps you to understand what the plan means for you locally and how to access relevant resources to help contribute to achieving our collective goals.

In summary, this guide will support you to:

1. explain the Skills for Life plan to youth members in your District/Region
2. develop a Youth Involvement plan that aligns to the vision and goals of the Skills for Life plan
3. understand how we are going to deliver the initiatives proposed in the Skills for Life plan

After more than a year of consultation with volunteers, young people, the public and decision makers, we know the vision and goals in the Skills for Life plan resonates well and that it's something we can all unite around. We also know that Scouting achieves amazing things. To achieve even more, and to reach our aspirations, we need to embrace the vision and work towards achieving the same four objectives: to grow, to become more inclusive, to be shaped by young people and to make a bigger impact in our communities.

We have put together "calls to action" which we can all get behind, linked to numerous support resources, to help develop a local action plan (or build on the plan you already have) that supports volunteers to see the contribution they are making, and to join us as we work towards achieving our shared goals.

We recognise that each District/Region team will be at various stages of development and each has a different context to consider. We also know that for many you will have detailed plans and will have completed many of the suggested actions. We hope this guide and the suggested actions will provide tips on how you can incorporate the Skills for Life vision and strategic objectives, building on your District/Region plan.

It's important that your whole team understands and supports the delivery of this Skills for Life plan and the associated actions, and therefore this guide is for your whole team.

We're looking forward to working together to achieve our goals. With your support, I believe we're well on our way.

SHQ (Youth Involvement) Team

Skills for Life strategic plan

We believe that skills for life can prepare better futures

Our vision

By 2023 we will have prepared more young people with skills for life, supported by amazing leaders delivering an inspiring programme.

We will be growing, more inclusive, shaped by young people and making a bigger impact in our communities.

Our objectives

In 2016 we asked volunteers what should be prioritised in the next strategic plan and the majority of volunteers said we should keep working towards the same four strategic objectives.

- Growth
- Inclusivity
- Youth Shaped
- Community Impact

Our goals

These are the goals we aim to achieve by 2023.

- 5,000 more young people
- 500 more Young Leaders
- 1,000 more Section Leaders
- Demographic of volunteers reflects society
- 200 more sections especially, but not exclusively, in areas of deprivation, remote and rural areas, and in new communities
- 50% of Groups, and 75% of Districts and Regions achieved Youth Approved Awards
- 50% young people taking part in community impact projects
- 50% of young people achieving the top awards

A better future for young people, giving them the character, practical and employability skills they need to succeed

Our pillars of work

Scouts Scotland and UK headquarters have plans of action to improve our support for volunteers, to make life easier so that more time can be spent on delivering an inspiring programme and to help recruit and retain more leaders.

We will focus this work under these pillars:

- Programme
- People
- Perception

A full version of the plan, including a full list of initiatives under the three pillars of work, is available on www.scouts.scot/strategy.

While we start work on these initiatives there are actions you can take to help our Movement achieve our goals by 2023.

A better future for volunteers by equipping them with better skills, tools and support to deliver inspiring programmes

Call to action for volunteers

We have created a checklist of practical actions volunteers can take to contribute to the delivery of the four strategic objectives.

We have chosen actions that are specific and have supporting resources. We understand that many of you will have done some of these actions or are working towards them already, and we encourage you to continue to do so and use this guide to build on what you're doing.

For those who haven't implemented actions around all four strategic objectives, we hope this is a helpful starting point to form a local action plan.

There are actions for sections, Groups, Districts and Regions, and there are guides to explain this in more detail. We encourage you to read the guide closest to your role.

For a full list of suggested actions for all volunteers see Appendix 2.

Plan of action to support you

Pillars of work

What Scouts Scotland and UK headquarters will be doing over the next five years to support you:

Programme

A fun, enjoyable, high quality programme consistently delivered and supported by simple tools.

We will work to ensure the programme experienced by every young person is shaped by young people (Youth Shaped), more relevant and accessible for young people from diverse backgrounds (Inclusion), and enables social action (Community Impact). The programme should attract and retain young people (Growth) because it's fun, adventurous and supports young people to develop life skills.

Our plan of action is to work with UK headquarters to support volunteers with high quality programme and review the provision of the 14-25 year-old programme so that we continue to attract and retain young people and give them the skills they need to succeed in life.

We have committed to these initiatives.

Programme planning

- Develop amazing Section Leaders
- Digital programme planning
- 'Off the shelf' programmes
- Digital tools to track progress
- Outdoor and adventure programme support

Provision for 14-25 year-olds

- Review provision for 14-25 year-olds
- Links to employability skills
- Partnerships to enhance the programme

People

More, well trained, better supported and motivated adult volunteers, and young people, from diverse backgrounds.

Our work will ensure that there are more young people taking part in Scouting, with more volunteers to deliver a quality experience (Growth). We will ensure that young people are more likely to shape their Scouting experience (Youth Shaped); that young people and volunteers from all backgrounds join, stay, lead and mix in Scouting (Inclusion) and support high quality social action projects (Community Impact).

Our plan of action is to work with UK headquarters to improve the volunteer journey, to make life easier for volunteers. Our plan also includes projects that will help us extend our reach to new audiences.

We have committed to these initiatives.

Improve the volunteer journey

- Transform adult recruitment
- Simpler training (focused on practical skills)
- Outdoor and adventure practical skills
- Better online resources

Extend our reach

- Improve the joining process for young people
- Reach under-represented communities
- Scouting in schools
- Explore early years provision

Perception

Scouting is clearly understood, more visible, trusted, respected and widely seen as playing a key role in today's society.

Our communications and membership engagement will ensure more young people and adult volunteers from more diverse backgrounds join, stay, lead and mix in Scouting (Growth, Inclusion), celebrating the social action our young people undertake (Community Impact) and the skills for life that they learn through the Scout Programme.

To help us attract and retain more people we need to be seen as a modern, relevant organisation that gives young people skills for life. Our plan is to transform our image so that we communicate a clear and consistent message to potential new members.

We have committed to these initiatives.

Transform our image

- Brand roll out
- Resources to promote the benefits of Scouting
- Uniform review

Managing the pillars of work

There are 19 initiatives under our three pillars of work. As we can't start everything at once, in September 2017 volunteers and young people (14+) were asked what should be prioritised. One-fifth said we should focus on developing amazing Section Leaders with the practical skills to deliver a great programme. Working with UK headquarters, that's where the focus will be in years one and two and there is a plan to include work that will support us to deliver this.

The following initiatives will be prioritised in years one and two.

Sharing the vision and plan

Skills for Life: our plan to prepare better futures in Scotland is our plan for the next five years.

There will be opportunities that come up where it will feel relevant to share the vision and Skills for Life plan with members. As a Youth Involvement Commissioner or member of a District/ Regional Youth Advisory Group, you can help promote the engagement with the new plan.

Understanding the context

To help explain the Skills for Life plan it's important to understand where it's come from.

The vision and Skills for Life plan is the result of a collaborative process, both in formulation and action as we move into its delivery. It only succeeds if we deliver it together, by working in partnership.

It only succeeds if we deliver it together, by working in partnership.

We have been working closely with UK headquarters on a joined-up approach to the development and consultation of this plan. This approach has helped us to make sure our strategy is aligned with the UK strategy, and relevant and achievable in Scotland.

Over 5,000 adult volunteers have helped review the objectives and consider the strategic priorities. This included volunteers across Scotland, England, Wales and Northern Ireland. There was a clear steer by volunteers to keep the four strategic objectives of the Scouting for All plan.

Collectively, we also spoke to over 6,000 young people, members of the public, politicians and key influencers.

Our consultation began at the beginning of 2017 with over 50 of our senior volunteers coming together to consider the key strategic issues affecting Scouts Scotland. A large group from Scotland then attended UK headquarters' national conference, Summit17, along with 600 other adult volunteers and young people. There was strong support to focus on areas of work under Programme, People and Perception.

In October 2017 we circulated a draft of the proposed plan and asked volunteers and young people (14+) to take part in consultation and give feedback and help prioritise what we should do. Over 5,000 volunteers and young people across the UK took part to shape the final version of the plan that was approved by the Scottish and UK boards at the beginning of 2018.

Celebrate achievements

Scouting achieves remarkable things. This is because of the dedication, enthusiasm and time given by volunteers. Our previous plan inspired 49 new sections to start in an area of deprivation in Scotland since 2013. We now help almost 40,000 young people aged 6-25 (including over 7,000 girls) get the best possible start in life. We have created a Youth Involvement Strategy for Scotland and are starting to see Youth Advisory Groups forming in our Regions and Districts. Over 200 sections, Groups, Districts and Regions have achieved a Youth Approved Award. Thank you for your role in achieving this. Whilst sharing the new vision and plan it's important to take time to celebrate and thank volunteers for their contribution.

Top tips for sharing the vision

As a key part of the youth involvement structure, you will likely be sharing the vision with young people, as well as adult members at events and visits. We have listed below the tips given to Regional/ District Commissioners to share the vision and plan to members. Most will also be relevant to your role too.

Here are some tips on how to use the resources to share the vision and plan with members.

- Use the Skills for Life strategy explainer video at the start of a presentation or share the video in Facebook groups or other volunteer facing social media.
- Use the Skills for Life PowerPoint presentation for your meetings, such as AGMs, forums and training courses. You can edit the PowerPoint to add in relevant goals and actions for your Region/District.
- You can circulate the Skills for Life booklet as a PDF or you can order printed copies from the Brand Centre to use at a meeting or event you host.
- There are guides to the strategy for section, Group, District, Regional volunteers and a guide for Youth Involvement – make sure they are aware of them.
- There are also external facing materials you can use to help explain the vision, mission, values and plan for the next five years to an audience such as your local MSP, MP, councillors or potential funders.
- There are a series of templates and other Skills for Life materials you can download from the Brand Centre www.scouts.org.uk/brand that you could use for an event or meeting.

Youth Involvement Actions

Youth Shaped

Youth shaped is the strategic objective you will be most familiar with, and will spend the majority of your role driving. Involving young people in decision-making is essential for our governance structures to stay informed and responsive to the fast-paced changes facing young people today. By encouraging a mixture of experiences and ages on our Executive Committees and District/Regional teams, we are more likely to encourage healthy debate and make better decisions that are relevant to the lives of young people in society today.

The more we involve young people in our decision-making structures the more they are able to influence decisions.

The more young people are involved in shaping their programme the more they will get out of it, and the more likely they are to stay, do well and achieve their top awards.

Action

- Develop and implement a Youth Involvement action plan based on the Scouts Scotland Youth Involvement Strategy.
- Encourage the District/Region to appoint an Assistant District/Regional Commissioner (Youth Involvement).
- Establish a District/Regional Youth Advisory Group.
- Elect a Chair for the Youth Advisory Group. In Scotland, this person is also known as the District/Regional Youth Commissioner; however they have a different purpose to a Youth Commissioner elsewhere in UK.
- Make sure you understand the different responsibilities of an Assistant District/Regional Commissioner (Youth Involvement), the District/Regional Youth Advisory Group, and its Chair.
- Promote the Youth Approved Awards.

Top tips

- Focus your youth involvement around the requirements to achieve the Youth Approved Awards.

- Refer to the Scouts Scotland Youth Involvement Strategy for the suggested membership of the District/Regional Youth Advisory Group to ensure it is shaped by young people in partnership with adults.
- Build a team around you to support in the delivery of your action plan.

Support

- Use the Youth Approved requirements and Youth Involvement Strategy to help you create a Youth Involvement action plan.
- Information and support, including contacts for the Youth Involvement Team is available on the youth involvement pages on our website.
- Youth Involvement Support Days delivered by the Scouts Scotland Youth Involvement team.

Growth

Growing the Movement is not the direct responsibility of the youth involvement teams, however there are some clear opportunities for you to have an impact on this strategic objective.

We know that a Young Leader is more likely to stay on as an adult volunteer in Scouting. We also know there is a huge opportunity for us to retain more young people when they reach 18 years old. These are both areas that you can influence.

Action

- Encourage young people to take on a Section Leader or Assistant role (particularly Young Leaders once they complete the scheme)
- Promote District Young Leaders provision and work with the District Explorer Scout Commissioner and Explorer Scout Leader (Young Leader) to implement the updated Young Leaders resources.

Support

- Use the updated Young Leaders' Scheme resources.
- Use the youth involvement resources on the Scouts Scotland website.

We know that a Young Leader is more likely to stay on as an adult volunteer in Scouting. We also know there is a huge opportunity for us to retain more young people when they reach 18 years old.

Inclusivity

We want to ensure that Scouting is open and welcoming to young people and volunteers from all backgrounds. To ensure Scouting continues to thrive, our membership should be diverse.

We want to make our processes more inclusive and accessible to encourage people to join, stay and thrive.

We also want our Section Leaders to be better equipped with skills, knowledge and confidence to meet the needs of all young people and ensure Scouting is open to all. There is now an inclusivity self-assessment tool using a red, amber, green system (RAG) available for sections, Districts and Regions to use.

Youth Advisory Groups are a great way to ensure the voice of young people influences the decisions of the District/Region. Involving young people brings a more diverse range of opinions and will help shape Scouting for the future.

Action

- Ensure all District/Region Youth Advisory Groups are representative of the diversity of the membership of your District/ Region.

Support

- Use the youth involvement resources.
- You can find the Inclusivity RAG Assessment form on www.scouts.org.uk/diversity
- More information is available on the Scouts Scotland inclusion pages, and our Inclusion Team is available to help with queries and support.

Community Impact

Core to Scouting is young people making a positive contribution to society. It's a fundamental part of being a Scout and has been central to the purpose of Scouting from the very beginning. We know it takes time to plan a high quality community impact project and that more support is needed to deliver the Community Impact Staged Badges.

A Million Hands is a project designed to help leaders run community impact projects that help young people identify and plan action on an issue they choose. The project brings together our A Million Hands charity partners resources and is designed to support leaders deliver the Community Impact Staged Badges.

Currently there are four issues that young people can choose from and resources now include support to run a project on any issue.

Action

- Help to ensure all District/Region community impact projects are chosen and delivered in partnership with young people.

Support

- Use the youth involvement resources.
- Find out more about A Million Hands.

Involving young people brings a more diverse range of opinions and will help shape Scouting for the future.

Communicate the Skills for Life plan

To help young people (14-25) in your District/Region understand what the new plan means for them, share the Skills for Life vision and plan.

Action

- Share the Skills for Life explainer video on social media and guide members to www.scouts.scot/strategy for more information.
- Share the Young Leader actions with Young Leaders in your District (you can find these in Appendix 2).

Support

- There is a series of resources you can use to help explain the Skills for Life plan including a video, presentations and booklets. Visit www.scouts.scot/strategy for all Scottish strategy resources.

Roll out the updated brand

One of the pillars of work, Perception, is about helping to effectively communicate the role and impact of Scouting in young people's lives and wider society. This will help both attract and retain more young people and volunteers.

Action

- Work with your District/Regional Commissioner to help roll out the new brand

Support

- Use the activation guide to understand how and when to roll out the brand.
- Use the Brand Centre to find the updated collection of resources and templates. Use www.scouts.org.uk/brand

Creating a Youth Involvement action plan

This section gives some guidance on how you could create or update your Youth Involvement action plan aligned to the Skills for Life plan. The Skills for Life District and Region Guides outline a similar suggestion to create a local action plan aligned to the four Skills for Life outcomes. It's important you work closely with your District or Regional Commissioners to support the development of the local action plan.

Six steps to create a Youth Involvement action plan

Working with your young people, ideally from a Youth Advisory Group and your District/Regional Commissioner, consider these six steps.

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1 | Think about Scouting in your area to better understand the context you're in. |
| 2 | Think about what you've already achieved, the challenges you face and what opportunities are in your local area. |
| 3 | Agree on what goals you should set based on the Skills for Life goals, Scouts Scotland Youth Involvement strategy and your local context. |
| 4 | Agree on what actions you should take to help achieve the goals you've set. |
| 5 | Communicate and share your plan |
| 6 | Review your goals and actions regularly. |

1. Scouting in your area

Using local knowledge and previous action plans you can find key information about how you're doing against the youth shaped goals.

Your District/Regional Commissioner will be able to support you to do this. They will also be leading the creation of the overall action plan for the District/Region, which will include youth shaped. It is important that you work closely with your Commissioner to ensure Youth Shaped Scouting, along with the other three outcomes, is achieved.

- Use the Youth Approved Award requirements to help you to build a picture of youth shaped Scouting in your area.
- Write down what your achievements have been and what your strengths are to ensure you find a moment to celebrate them.
- Write down learnings the District/Region should consider and what areas you need to further develop or improve on.

2. Challenges and opportunities

Once you have a good picture of how your Region, Districts and Groups are doing with the Youth Shaped outcome, you can think about the challenges and opportunities.

- Involve your whole youth involvement team (and other relevant roles) to identify the challenges and opportunities.
- Work with your Youth Advisory Group to involve young people to identify challenges and opportunities.
- You could run an event or do something online to bring members together to celebrate great Youth Shaped Scouting and the achievements so far. This could also be an opportunity to engage younger members with the Skills for Life plan, and get their views on the challenges and opportunities in your area.

3. Agree on your goals

Considering your context, challenges and opportunities, discuss with your District/Regional Commissioner what realistic goals you can set as a target to reach by 2023.

- Your District/Regional Commissioner will lead on the formation of the overall goals for your District/Region, but it is important that you are involved in the goal setting for the Youth Shaped objective.

4. Agree on your actions

Now that you have some goals to aim for by 2023 you can discuss what actions will help you achieve them.

We have a list of actions for sections, Groups, Districts and Regions that will contribute to achieving the goals.

- Involve your District/Regional Commissioner, and your Youth Advisory Group in your District/Region (and other relevant roles too) to agree on the actions.
- Use the template in Appendix 1 to write down what actions you can work towards.

5. Share your plan

It's important to share your plan with members in the District/Region, particularly with those that have a greater role in achieving your goals.

- Circulate your plan and goals to relevant members.
- Present the plan at any event or meeting (e.g. AGMs) where it feels a good opportunity to bring everyone onboard.

6. Review your plan regularly

You will need to regularly review and report on how you're doing against the goals you've set.

- Use the template in Appendix 1 as a way of keeping track of how you're doing and as a report for Executive Meetings or other relevant meetings such as AGMs.

Vision	A statement of what we aim to achieve by 2023. Our vision is practical and speaks to the role of volunteers in delivering a great programme for young people.
Mission	A statement of our overall purpose. Our mission is the purpose of Scouting (why we exist), part of the fundamentals of Scouting.
Objectives (strategic objectives)	A result we are aiming to achieve. We have four objectives: to grow, become more inclusive, shaped by young people and make a bigger difference in our communities.
Goals	We have set targets for each objective. These are statements we can measure or count, which will show how well we are doing, eg we want to grow by 5,000 young people by 2023. Other similar terms include Key Performance Indicators (KPIs), targets, and outputs.
Actions for volunteers	We have created a series of actions volunteers can take under each of the four objectives that will contribute and help us achieve our stated goals.
Call to action
Pillars of work	These terms refer to the plan of action of proposed initiatives under the areas of Programme, People and Perception. These initiatives will be the main area of work for Scouts Scotland and UK headquarters to better support volunteers and to help us achieve our stated vision and objectives.
Our plan of action
Local action plan (eg District action plan, Region action plan)	Every District and Region is encouraged to create an overall action plan that aligns to the Skills for Life vision and objectives.
Growth strategy (development plan)	Every District and Region is encouraged to create a specific plan for growth and development. Most will already have one in place and use a range of terms such as growth strategy or development plan.
